WELL AND POINT GUIDELINES

Drilling of wells and points must be approved by the Design Review Committee.

Irrigation by well water requires the use of a de-ironizer to control iron staining. (Staining not only affects the individual homeowner's property, but as the water travels towards the storm sewer, staining can occur in front of neighboring properties.)

The homeowner is responsible to keep driveways, walkways, exterior building surfaces and curbing in a well-maintained and rust-free condition.
